Keeping your dogs relaxed

Why does my dog behave like that?

Many animals learn to cope with our busy hectic lifestyles, but some will struggle with the slightest change. When dogs are struggling to cope they will show changes in their normal behaviour.

How will I know if my dog is stressed?

Stress in dogs can be caused by many factors, such as a new home, car travel, going on holiday, fireworks and loud noises. Signs of stress in dogs can go unnoticed, as most owners think that their dog is being naughty or 'that's just what dogs do'. However, if left unaddressed, these signs can develop into behavioural problems in later life. Look out for your dog withdrawing from play, becoming nervous, pacing, hiding or shaking.

What is Adaptil?

The Adaptil range are natural and unique solutions to canine stress. Adaptil products are proven to reassure and comfort puppies and adult dogs in challenging situations and prevent or reduce stress-related behaviours.

What are 'appeasing pheromones'?

'Appeasing pheromones' are naturally released by all lactating mammals to comfort and reassure their offspring. In dogs, the canine appeasing pheromone has not only been shown to help puppies learn and settle, but also to have a comforting influence on adult dogs too.

The beneficial effect of Adaptil pheromones* has been proven in more than 18 studies published in scientific journals or presented at veterinary conferences all over the world.

*Diffuser, Spray and Collar

How do I use Adaptil?

Adaptil Diffuser

Just plug in and switch on in the room your dog spends the most time in! The diffuser will continuously release the appeasing pheromone into the environment for approximately 4 weeks. This will ensure that the room and surrounding area gives your dog reassurance and comfort should any unexpected events occur, such as loud noises, or being left alone.

Adaptil Collar

Just fit the collar snugly around your dog's neck so the heat from your dog allows the appeasing pheromone to diffuse. The collar is useful for stressful situations in and out of the home providing pheromone support all the time; including going into kennels, holidays, visiting the vets or out on walks. The collar comes in two sizes; adult and puppy, both will last for approximately 4 weeks.

Adaptil Spray

Simply apply the appeasing pheromone based spray to your dog's bedding or other items your dog will spend its time near. Adaptil Spray will provide temporary relief for short events such as travelling. Spray the back of your car to make the journey more pleasurable for you all, 15 minutes before setting off. Once sprayed, the effects will last up to 4 hours.
